NOTE TO THE READER

In 2002 the UNITWIN/UNESCO Chairs Programme will be celebrating its tenth anniversary. Conceived by the Division of Higher Education (ED/HED), which was subsequently designated as its House-wide manager, the Programme was established in 1992 following the relevant decision of the General Conference of UNESCO taken at its twenty-sixth session.

It was launched with the aim of developing interuniversity co-operation, while emphasizing the transfer of knowledge between universities and the promotion of academic solidarity across the world.

UNITWIN/UNESCO Chairs projects deal with training and research activities and cover all major fields of knowledge within UNESCO's competence such as Education, Human Rights, Cultural Development, Environment, Basic and Engineering Sciences, Communication, etc. The principal beneficiaries of this programme are institutions of higher learning in developing countries and countries in transition.

Since its creation the Programme has met with great interest from Member States and continues to develop steadily. From some 17 Chairs established in 1992 the number has today surpassed 480 established Chairs and interuniversity networks. These projects are located at over 500 institutions in some 112 countries and involve thousands of academics, scholars and graduate students, as well as key partners from civil society and the economic sector. Over the last five years these partners have brought some $30 million US dollars towards UNITWIN projects, a sum six times greater than UNESCO's regular funding.

UNESCO Chairs and UNITWIN Networks, whatever their field of competence and regardless of the local or global problems they deal with, are directly contributing to the renewal and internationalization of higher education: of its systems, institutions, programs and courses (both formal and non-formal, at undergraduate, graduate and post-graduate levels).

Activities falling within the established projects are all directed towards the achievement and reinforcement of higher education reform launched by UNESCO's World Conference on Higher Education (Paris, 1998).

Over the last ten years the UNITWIN/UNESCO Chairs Programme has developed into a truly world-wide, interuniversity co-operation scheme based on interdisciplinarity, intersectoriality and networking. It has since become one of the major intersectorial Programmes and an integral part of activities developed by UNESCO's various Sectors, services and Field (Cluster) Offices.

The Programme was the subject of two evaluations – internal (1996) and external (2000). Following the recommendations of the external evaluation the future strategy will be oriented towards enhancement of the Programme's relevance, efficiency and impact on national development efforts. UNITWIN projects that have proved themselves sustainable will be pursued and new sub-regional, regional and international interuniversity networks will be established in all absolute priority areas of UNESCO.

The Division of Higher Education established this Directory in order to promote networking between the higher education institutions and facilitate direct relationships between the various partners of the UNITWIN/UNESCO Chairs Programme. It is the result of the development of a database which is available for consultation on UNESCO's web site:

<http://www.unesco.org/education/educprog/unitwin/index.html>

The Directory is composed of two parts:

Part I presents UNESCO Chairs by country, and Part II presents the networks - partners of the UNITWIN/UNESCO Chairs Programme. (For easy reference, the growing number of UNESCO Chairs which have already evolved into networks while maintaining their identity as focal points, will be found under Part II).

The individual entries contain: title of the chair and/or network followed by the year of signature of the agreement (or contract), fields/disciplines of activities as well as objectives; name of the host institution; name and address of the chairholder/project coordinator and, when possible, names of the partner institutions involved in its activities.

The Directory also includes statistical data (graphs) indicating the number and distribution of the UNESCO Chairs by region and by field as well as two indexes for the chairs and networks (per field) and one index for the chairs and networks (by host country).

The information provided in this Directory is valid as of 31 July 2001.

Note au lecteur

En l'an 2002 le Programme UNITWIN/Chaires UNESCO célébrera son dixième anniversaire. Conçu par la Division de l'enseignement supérieur (ED/HED) qui assume la responsabilité de son suivi et de sa gestion, il a été créé en 1992, suite à une décision de la 26ème session de la Conférence générale de l'Organisation.

Le but de ce programme est de contribuer au renforcement de la coopération interuniversitaire en mettant l'accent sur le transfert des connaissances entre les Universités et la promotion d'une solidarité académique à l'échelle du monde entier.

Les projets UNITWIN/Chaires UNESCO se situent dans les domaines de la formation et de la recherche. Ils couvrent les principaux champs de connaissance qui relèvent de la compétence de l'UNESCO: l'éducation, les droits de l'homme, le développement culturel, l'environnement, les sciences fondamentales et appliquées, la communication, etc. Les principaux bénéficiaires de ce programme sont des institutions d'enseignement supérieur des pays en voie de développement et des pays en transition.

Dès sa création, le Programme a suscité un grand intérêt de la part des États membres et il s'est développé activement et régulièrement. De 17 en 1992, le nombre des chaires et des réseaux interuniversitaires mis en place dépasse aujourd'hui 480. Installés dans plus de 500 institutions de 112 pays, les projets impliquent des milliers d'enseignants, de boursiers et d'étudiants de 2ème et de 3ème cycle, ainsi que d'importants partenaires de la société civile et du secteur de l'économie. Au cours des cinq dernières années, ces partenaires ont apporté aux projets UNITWIN un soutien de quelques 30 millions de dollars des Etats-Unis, soit environ six fois plus que le financement du programme ordinaire de l'UNESCO.

Les Chaires UNESCO et les réseaux UNITWIN, quels que soient leurs domaines de compétence et les problèmes locaux ou globaux qui constituent leurs centres d'intérêt, contribuent directement au renouvellement et à l'internationalisation de l'enseignement supérieur, de ses systèmes, de ses institutions, de ses programmes et de ses formations (à la fois d'ordre formel et informel) ainsi qu'à ses différents niveaux (1er, 2ème et 3ème cycles).

Ils constituent un précieux atout pour la mise en oeuvre des recommandations adoptées par la Conférence mondiale sur l'Enseignement supérieur organisée à Paris en octobre 1998.

Au cours des dix dernières années, le Programme UNITWIN/Chaires UNESCO a ainsi contribué à promouvoir le développement d'un nouveau schéma mondial de coopération interuniversitaire, fondé sur l'interdisciplinarité, l'intersectorialité et la mise en réseaux. Il est devenu un des programmes intersectoriels majeurs, partie intégrale des activités de l'Organisation, à travers ses différents secteurs, services et bureaux hors - siège.

Le programme UNITWIN/Chaires UNESCO a été soumis à deux évaluations - interne (1996) et externe (2000). En conformité avec les recommandations de l'évaluation externe, la stratégie future de son développement sera particulièrement attentive à la pertinence, l'efficacité et l'impact des projets vis à vis des efforts nationaux de développement. Dans ce cadre, les chaires et réseaux UNITWIN qui ont fait la preuve de leur justesse et de leur viabilité seront poursuivis et de nouveaux réseaux interuniversitaires, sous- régionaux, régionaux et internationaux seront mis en place dans les domaines correspondants aux priorités absolues de l'action de l'UNESCO.

La Division de l'enseignement supérieur de l'UNESCO a confectionné le présent Répertoire dans le but de favoriser la mise en réseaux des institutions d'enseignement supérieur et l'établissement de relations directes entre les différents partenaires du Programme UNITWIN/Chaires UNESCO. Il est le fruit du développement d'une base de données qui peut être consulté sur le site Internet de l'UNESCO:

<http://www.unesco.org/education/educprog/unitwin/index.html>

Le répertoire comporte deux parties :

La première présente les Chaires UNESCO par pays et la seconde est consacrée aux réseaux partenaires du programme UNITWIN/Chaires UNESCO. (Pour faciliter la consultation, les Chaires, en nombre croissant, qui ont déjà évolué en réseaux, tout en maintenant leur identité comme point focal, sont placées dans cette seconde partie).

Chaque présentation de chaire et de réseau comprend : le titre de la chaire ou du réseau, l'année de signature de l'accord (ou du contrat), les domaines d'activités et les objectifs de la chaire ou du réseau, le nom de l'institution hôte, le nom et l'adresse du responsable de la chaire (ou du coordonateur du réseau) et dans la mesure du possible, les partenaires impliqués dans le déroulement des activités.

Le Répertoire fournit par ailleurs, des données statistiques (graphiques) sur la répartition des chaires UNESCO par région et par domaine ainsi que deux index pour les chaires et les réseaux (par domaine) et un index pour les chaires et les réseaux (par pays hôte).

Les données de la présente édition du répertoire sont issues d'une mise à jour arrêtée au 31 juillet 2001.

UNESCO Chair in Reorienting Teacher Education towards Sustainability
(1999)

Fields/Disciplines

Teacher education.

Objectives

To take leadership in developing an international pilot network among existing teacher training institutions, and facilitating and co-ordinating its work, based in part on the results of the UNESCO workshop held in Thessaloniki, Greece, in December 1997. This network will include institutions in different countries and regions of the world. The research and demonstration focus of the network will take the form of experimentation with different approaches to reorienting teacher education towards sustainability, using an agreed upon common framework such will allow for the comparability of results. The experience gained through the network will provide valuable insights that will be articulated in the form of guidelines drawn from practical experience.

Chaire UNESCO en science de l'éducation en Amérique latine et les Caraïbes (1999)

Fields/Disciplines

Science de l'éducation.

Objectives

Étudier et proposer des modèles d'enseignement des sciences naturelles permettant d'améliorer la qualité de l'enseignement et de promouvoir l'égalité des chances. Concevoir et développer des programmes d'études post-universitaires pour la formation de formateurs de professeurs de sciences naturelles. Créer et promouvoir dans les universités le réseau des spécialistes en didactique des sciences. Renforcer les capacités nationales pour l'adaptation du programme d'enseignement des sciences à la réalité du pays et coopérer à l'élaboration de matériel didactique pour les enseignants et les élèves. Optimiser les ressources grâce à l'utilisation de la bibliographie et des fonds documentaires des institutions concernées. Concevoir des supports de communication susceptibles de favoriser la diffusion des connaissances et des innovations pédagogiques générées dans le cadre du projet par les professeurs de sciences naturelles. Faciliter les échanges d'enseignants entre les institutions des diverses régions concernées pour leur permettre de compléter leur formation, de leur faire connaître d'autres systèmes éducatifs et de développer des projets conjoints.

Chaire UNESCO sur les politiques culturelles pour le développement (1999)

Fields/Disciplines

Femme, culture et développement ; Culture, environnement et qualité de la vie ; Multimédia et diffusion culturelle ; Culture de la paix ; Culture et tourisme.

Objectives

La Chaire a pour but de renforcer les ressources humaines dans les domaines suivants: les politiques culturelles pour le développement; administration et gestions culturelles; coopération culturelle et intégration régionale; recherche interdisciplinaire sur les politiques culturelles pour le développement, y compris les interactions entre culture et développement. En Afrique, au niveau régional, la chaire agira à travers la promotion de la formation, de la recherche, de l'information et de la documentation, en mettant principalement l'accent sur les politiques et le développement culturels, les statistiques culturelles, l'économie de la culture, la législation en matière de culture, l'administration et la gestion dans le domaine de la culture, etc. Ses activités porteront aussi sur les relations entre la culture et le développement, notamment entre la culture et l'éducation, la santé, l'environnement, la pauvreté et la faim, le développement rural, les droits de l'homme et la démocratie et la gestion des conflits. La chaire favorisera la prise en compte de la dimension culturelle du développement et encouragera le dialogue entre les acteurs concernés (Etats, autorités locales et régionales, chercheurs, économistes et planificateurs, artistes, organisateurs, syndicats d'initiative, associations, ONG, etc.) en vue de la définition des politiques culturelles. En particulier, la chaire sensibilisera l'opinion publique, les experts et les décideurs aux méthodes les plus appropriées de définition, de planification, de mise en œuvre et d'évaluation des politiques, des stratégies, des programmes et des projets culturels, s'inspirant des principes et des objectifs du plan d'action de Stockholm.
